5. An explanation of how order execution differs according to client categorisation, where ING treats categories of clients differently and where it may affect the order execution arrangements	A client's regulatory categorisation is an important factor in the assessment of whether the client is relying on ING in providing best execution. The starting presumption is that ING provides best execution to all its retail and professional clients, unless one of the specific situations as described in paragraph 7 of our ING WB Best Execution and Order Handling Policy applies. Please note, that for eligible counterparties the best execution obligation does not apply. However, in our dealings with ECPs we will act honestly, fairly and professionally and communicate in a way which is fair, clear and not misleading.	A client's regulatory categorisation is an important factor in the assessment of whether the client is relying on ING in providing best execution. The starting presumption is that ING provides best execution to all its retail and professional clients, unless one of the specific situations as described in paragraph 7 of our ING WB Best Execution and Order Handling Policy applies. Please note, that for eligible counterparties the best execution obligation does not apply. 6. An explanation of whether other criteria were given precedence over immediate price and cost when executing retail client orders and how these other criteria were instrumental in delivering the best possible result in terms of the total consideration to the client	In principle, for clients classified as retail we determine the best possible result in terms of total consideration. Where total consideration means that the price and costs of execution will determine best execution. The only exception will be where a retail client places an order with a specific instruction which may in certain circumstances prevent ING from taking the necessary steps to obtain the best possible result for the client as described in paragraph 7 of our ING WB Best Execution and Order Handling Policy.	In principle, for clients classified as retail we determine the best possible result in terms of total consideration.
